"The Warm-UP"

One should not expect the G-Spot orgasm to be within the realm of quickies - at least not the first time attempting to give or receive it. By all means, try it. You never know, the act itself might provoke a quicker and even a more powerful release. To find the G-Spot takes only moments. To release it takes a passionate warm-up and communication. We all need a little love and compassion; sensual touches, kisses all over the body, face and neck, even the toes. Playing your favorite music, and lighting a few candles can be a fine way to start. This will create a relaxed atmosphere. After that, use your hands and fingernails to lightly stroke her back from behind. Rub the neck, gently kiss her arm, and move on down to the small of her back. It will turn up the heat for the both of you. Passion is a wondrous thing. To give is to receive.
